Retirement Resolution

Daniel B. Maxinoski will retire from the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources on August 2, 2008 after serving more than thirty-four years with the State of Wisconsin.

On January 7, 1974, Max was selected to become a Conservation Warden. He was assigned training stations at Lancaster, Shawano, and Delafield. On July 8, 1974 he was assigned to the Marshfield warden station. Max fell in love with the Marshfield station and a girl named Jill. Max has spent his entire warden career in Marshfield.

Max was always eager to volunteer for special assignments. He enjoyed seeing all of the beauty that Wisconsin has to offer. Whether it was working waterfowl hunters on the Mississippi River, chasing fish spearers, or working bear hunters, UP NORTH, he loved to see new country. Max has attended more than fifty such enforcement camps in his career.

Max's biggest asset was his punctuality. Being on time was a necessity with him. Max could often be heard chiding a tardy warden, "If you're not there ten minutes early, you're late."

Being the only Department employee in Marshfield, Max has an excellent working relationship with the Wood County Sheriff's Department, Marshfield Police Department, Fire Department, Park and Recreation Department and both City and County government. As someone once said "Max is a one man DNR gang in Marshfield."

Max has always remembered and strived to live by the words of wisdom his father said upon his appointment as a Conservation Warden: "Don't let the power of the badge go to your head, treat people right."

WHEREAS, Daniel B. Maxinoski has served the people of the State of Wisconsin faithfully and well in the performance of duties and has thus earned the commendation due an exemplary public employee;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Natural Resources Board at its June 2007 meeting at Waukesha, Wisconsin, recognizes such faithful service with due respect and gratitude, and hereby makes this commendation a part of its official records.
