Please know that this comment represents the views of many people in my family and circle of friends. We are extremely concerned about this request to divert Lake Michigan water to FoxConn, for a non-residential project in a community that straddles the basin.
SO many questions.

First and foremost, why is Wisconsin not voluntarily asking for regional review? Why is Wisconsin incessantly undermining the Great Lakes Water Compact?
We are urging regional review and are asking the other states to request it.

Why did FoxConn put the project outside the basin if it was going to need all this water?
Why is the application running afoul of the spirit and requirements of the Compact?
What does Racine get out of this arrangement -- why is Racine and not Mount Pleasant asking for the diversion?
Why doesn't the DNR care about the Great Lakes?

My family and I, and many friends, oppose this request. We all vote. Some of us live in Waukesha County, imagine that!

We are deeply disappointed in the kind of government we have in Wisconsin that allows so much degradation of our environmental resources. This is but one of many examples. But, it is a huge one -- and we strongly oppose this request.
We hope the other states in the Compact will eventually see the scam WI is running, and we also hope that a change of government in our state will start to solve the many, many problems created, not solved, by the current regime.
