concerning the foxconn water draw from lake michigan. i believe you are setting the stage for companies with resource issues in their own countries coming here with a get out of jail free card for environmental degredation in the usa in exchange for some tax dollars. this is a terrible decision that needs to be addressed. there should be no chance of thier toxins slipping into our water or soil. maxing out racines water treatment system is not the answer, what happens when 6+ inches of rain falls, straight to the rivers and lake. im sorry the dnr has become just a puppet told to jump when walker says jobs. get some balls and say no, canada should have some power since lake michigan is part of one great lake. this is not ours to degrade. we as wisconsinites pride in being pioneers in restoration, now we are pioneers in neo-ignorance. forget the past until it hits you in the face. no foxconn water from or into lake michigan.
