To Whom it may Concern:
I do not think Wisconsin should allow a foreign owned and operated private company to divert 7 million gallons of fresh lake water out of Lake Michigan daily. The Great Lakes Compact specifically states that waters must be returned to the watershed after use. Foxconn admits that it will not be meeting this requirement. Foxconn also has not been required to have environmental reviews that every other company or construction has had to undergo prior to permitting and ground breaking.

Should this use of our lake water be allowed then Foxconn must have a self-financed plan on the books and in place before any work goes forward to remediate the inevitable problems it will cause to our water quality. Please review and revoke any and all Foxconn permits until a thorough review has been made of all possible contaminations and diversion outcomes.

We only have one Lake Michigan and it is not ours to squander.
Thank you.
