Dear Wisconsin DNR,

As a Wisconsin resident who believes in the wisdom of protecting the world's largest network of freshwater lakes through the Great Lakes Compact, I ask you to STOP FoxConn's proposal to divert water from Lake Michigan. The proposed FoxConn complex lies OUTSIDE of the Great Lakes Basin, making the proposed complex a clear violation of the Great Lakes Compact's standards.

As a Racine County resident who enjoys kayaking and canoeing the beautiful Root River, I ask you to WITHHOLD approval for FoxConn's construction due to the company's nebulous commitment to cleaning their return water. No one wants icky water, and dumping hard metals and other contaminants into the Root River (which has been considerably cleaned up through the hard work of many concerned citizens and leaders in recent decades) would decrease property values, betray Wisconsin's excellent environmental legacy, harm wildlife, and leave an expensive mess for future generations.

This non-US-based company has an international reputation for poor environmental standards. Please DENY FOXCONN'S APPLICATION.

Sincerely,

Claire Anderson,
Racine, Wisconsin
