From:	Dorothy Jost
To:	DNR Racine Diversion Comments
Subject:	Foxconn comments
Date:	Wednesday, March 21, 2018 6:17:29 PM

It may be too late to submit my comment, but I still need to try.

My voice is small and I've been told that it won't matter. I've almost become sadly submissive. Yet…

Please, please turn Foxconn away. I've read so much on the possible environmental upheavals. I read up on organic solvents, about water quality, about air quality, about wetland destruction. I read that it takes 62 years for Lake Michigan to get rid of pollutants.

Many, many people know more than I. But here's one thing to consider; no one yet knows everything. Years down the road, if Foxconn is allowed to "wash" and return water to our Great Lakes, what stone might we have left unturned? Years down the road, what affect will we find to the destruction of our wetlands?

The loss of our farmland is of huge concern to me; my heart and soul belong to this great and beautiful state of Wisconsin. Our land, air and water is truly what makes our state rich and beautiful.

None of us wants to live in Chicago; please refrain from turning our farmland into a concrete jungle.

I could ramble forever.

Your opportunity is now. The Great Lake Compact indicates that water diversion is for public consumption. Cast your vote wisely!