The Problem:

Numerous Wisconsin Residents are now called to active military duties and only have limited time and use of any hunting and/or fishing licenses. Presently active military personnel can receive a fishing license and a small game license when on furlough or leave in Wisconsin. All other licenses will need to be purchased by the individuals, and the law will allow the active military personnel to buy a deer license with out the usual waiting period.

Whereas, the arm forces personnel are risking their lives and time to ensure that all Americans will continue to live in a free country, there fore the citizens of Wisconsin would like to thank them for their efforts.

Be it resolved the conservation congress in LaFayette County on April 12, 2010 recommends that any active arm forces personnel on furlough or leave in Wisconsin during any hunting/fishing season should be issued a Conservation Patron license at no charge. Also during the spring turkey season, if an armed forces personnel should be on leave in Wisconsin they should be given a turkey tag for the season they are present for and be allowed to hunt a turkey without the tag drawing process.
