Dear Rao:

A report on the above site prepared by Cooper Engineering Company, Inc., received February 28, 1994, concluded that no further corrective action was necessary on the 1,000 gallon diesel fuel underground storage tank at the above-described site.

The Close-Out Committee reviewed your case through our fast track system which involved the removal of this tank. With the information that has been received by the Department to date, the Committee agrees that additional remedial effort does not seem to be necessary at this time for this particular tank bed and is in substantial compliance with s. 144.76 Wisconsin Statutes..

The Department may require responsible parties to undertake appropriate investigative or remedial action should new information regarding this site come to light.

Sincerely,

James A. Hosch
Hydrogeologist
