Groundwater Workshops for Educators – 2017

(Application deadline: November 7, 2016)

You can submit this application via regular mail or electronically by emailing to kmasarik@uwsp.edu.

If you prefer, this application can also be submitted by completing an online form: <https://goo.gl/forms/Bzrf7yhqL8kFe91P2>

1. Name, address and phone number of school or nature center:

2. Name and phone number of school principal or nature center director:

3. Names, emails and phone numbers of two educators who will participate in the training (emails are critical):
 1. _____
 2. _____

4. County (ies) served by school/nature center:

5. Does your school/nature center have a groundwater sand tank model? Yes or No?

6. What age students will be working with the model?

7. In what classes will the model be used?

8. How many students will use or see the model in a school year?

9. Please describe briefly how you plan to incorporate the model into your curriculum or educational program.

10. Include any other information that will help us decide if your school or nature center should be selected to receive a model (e.g. groundwater issues in your area, water related projects that your school/nature center is or plans on becoming involved with, etc.).
11. If your application is selected, your district will be eligible for substitute teacher reimbursement costs. This money will be reimbursed to schools in June of 2017. What is the cost of a substitute teacher in your district?
12. If your application is selected, which workshop would you prefer to attend?
 _____ January 18, 2017 @ Bay Beach Wildlife Sanctuary, Green Bay, WI
 _____ February 1, 2017 @ WGNHS Core Lab, Mount Horeb, WI

Please limit this application to 2 pages. If your application is selected you will be asked to:

- Participate in a one-day training session in January/February, 2017 to learn use and care of the model;
- Incorporate the model into your curriculum or education programs;
- Demonstrate the model and do at least two related activities with 15 or more students;
- Perform at least one activity that has a “take-home” component to increase parent awareness; and
- Complete and submit a two-page written evaluation.
