

HUMOR?

And then there was the camel-
bel's daughter who liked the boys
when they were staved.

The average American works himself to death trying to get ready to live.

1st CCC: "Do you know where
has Camels feet?"

2nd CCC: "Why?"

1st CCC: "Because they've been so long without water."

Veteran to Rookie: "I suppose you come from one of those towns
where they roll up the pavement
every night."

Rookie: "What pavement?"

"What was the explanation on Si's farm?"

"He fed his chickens some 'lay or just' feed and one of them was a rooster."

Enrollee: "I came into the CCC without a penny in my pocket."

Ditto: "Yes, and I came in at without a pocket."

In the hills of Kentucky-- Salesman: "Say you've got your shoes mixed. You've got the right shoe on the left foot.
Strawfoot: "And here for twenty years I thought I was club-

A teacher once asked the students of the fourth grade "What is your favorite city?"
First: "New York City."
The teacher said, "New York City is a big city. It has a lot of people and a lot of things. It is a very important city. It is the center of the world."
The teacher then asked the students "What is your favorite city?"
The students all said "New York City."
