

Attention Northern Zone Trappers!

The DNR requests your help in understanding northern forest bobcat populations

DNR furbearer program staff are attempting to radio-collar bobcats in 12 northcentral counties to better understand bobcat population status and densities. We need your help! If you catch a bobcat in Ashland, Florence, Forest, Iron, Langlade, Lincoln, Oneida, Price, Rusk, Sawyer, Taylor, or Vilas counties that you cannot, or do not wish to, keep please contact us. If the animal is suitable for a collar (adult, uninjured, and appropriate location), we may be able to collar your incidental captures prior to release. Radio-collared bobcats will help us re-evaluate bobcat population status and help us gauge survey methods.

Northern Zone Bobcat Research Area 2015

Your assistance and involvement helps with furbearer management. For questions, or to report a bobcat, please contact:

Nathan Roberts
DNR Furbearer Research Scientist
Nathanm.roberts@wisconsin.gov
715. 401-1051

