

Citizen Resolution # 490121

(For Hearing Officer completion)

Limiting Nonresident waterfowl hunters during the Wisconsin Waterfowl season

Presently, Wisconsin allows nonresident waterfowl hunters the same number of days to waterfowl hunt as residents. In an effort to reduce crowding on public hunting grounds, nonresident waterfowl hunters should be limited to 14 days of hunting during the Wisconsin waterfowl season. These 14 days should be allowed to be used consecutively or in two seven day periods of time, not to include opening weekend of duck season.

Would you support the Conservation Congress working with the state legislature to limit the number of days nonresident waterfowl hunters are allowed to hunt in Wisconsin?
