Firearm and Archery Restrictions

You may hunt with a firearm, bow or crossbow during the open season under the following conditions.

You may not:

- hunt with a shotgun that is .410 or smaller and does not fire a single slug; any .22 caliber or 5 mm rimfire rifle; .17 caliber centerfire rifle; fully automatic firearm; or with ammunition loaded with non-expanding type bullets.
  - hunt with a handgun that is loaded with a .410 shotgun shell loaded with a single slug or projectile, a centerfire cartridge of .22 caliber or smaller, or has a minimum barrel length that is less than 5 ½ inches measured from the muzzle to the firing pin with the action closed.
  - hunt with a muzzleloader that is less than .45 caliber or a muzzleloading handgun.
  - hunt with a bow having a pull of less than 30 pounds, or use arrows which have metal broadhead blades less than seven-eighths of an inch wide. Heavier equipment is recommended.
  - possess any poisoned, drugged, or explosive-tipped arrow while hunting.
  - hunt with a crossbow, unless it has a minimum draw of 100 pounds, a workable safety, and uses at least 14-inch long bolts or arrows equipped with broadheads. Compound bows equipped with a drawlock mechanism that is capable of holding the bow at full draw are considered crossbows; these are exempt from the 100 pound requirement but must meet the 30 pound minimum.
  - possess or transport in a moving vehicle any firearm (other than a handgun) or bow unless it is unloaded or any crossbow unless it is unloaded and decocked OR unloaded and enclosed within a carrying case. Note: A loaded firearm can be placed on, but not in, a vehicle which is stationary.
  - load a firearm other than a handgun while it is in a vehicle, or discharge any firearm in or from any moving vehicle or a stationary motorized vehicle except for certain disabled hunters with proper permits.*
- *A person may load and discharge a firearm, bow, or crossbow from a stationary, non-motorized vehicle which is not attached to a motor vehicle.

Other Restrictions

You may not:

- feed elk or hunt elk over bait, except for scents, materials that are deposited by natural vegetation, materials that result from normal agricultural or gardening practices, or crops planted and left standing as wildlife food plots.
- hunt elk with the aid of dogs.
- possess an elk carcass unless you also possess a validated elk carcass tag.
- allow someone else to use or carry your license or carcass tag, or for you to use or carry another person's license or carcass tag while hunting.
- Possess more than one copy of a unique carcass tag while afield.
- use, or possess with the intent to use, a light including vehicle headlights for shining any wild animal while hunting or in possession of a firearm, bow and arrow, or crossbow. This includes laser sights. Note: Class C visually handicapped permit holders may use a laser sight.
- sell, purchase, barter, or offer to sell, purchase, or barter any elk or elk part except the head, skin not in spotted coat, and antlers not in velvet of any elk lawfully killed when these parts are separated from the rest of the carcass.

Note: Elk with antlers in velvet may be harvested during the open season, but to keep the antlers, the hunter must contact a warden within 7 days of tagging the elk to request written authorization to keep the antlers. The velvet antlers may not be sold or transferred to another person.

Tagging and Transport

- Immediately upon killing and before field dressing or moving the elk, you must validate the carcass tag by detaching the bottom portion.
- If you leave it, tag it! If you leave the elk, you must first attach the validated carcass tag to the animal. You do not need to attach the tag as long as you remain with the carcass, such as when dragging it out of the field.
- To facilitate removal from the field, an elk may be divided into not more than five parts, not including the hide or lower legs up to the tarsus joint (ankle or hock) on the hind legs and up to the carpus joint (wrist or knee) on the front legs. The head and neck shall remain attached to one of the other parts of the animal, not including the hide. All parts of the elk, except the entrails, must be removed from the field and exhibited at the time of registration. Only one elk that has been quartered may be stored or transported at a time.
- It is illegal to transport another person's unregistered elk unless accompanied by the person issued the carcass tag.

Registration

- In-person registration is required. All harvested elk must be presented in person at a designated location. Location and hours of operation will be shared prior to the start of the elk hunting season.
- Each elk must be registered by 5 p.m. the day after recovery of the carcass, and prior to its removal from the elk management zone. At the time of registration, hunters shall provide the department with information about the location of the kill. If requested, you must allow the department to collect tissue or other samples.
- The person who tags the elk must keep the carcass tag with the butchered meat until it is consumed.

Road Hunting

You may not:

- hunt within 50 feet of the roadway's center.
- discharge a firearm, shoot an arrow from a bow, or a bolt from a crossbow from or across a highway or within 50 feet of the roadway's center. This prohibition applies to all public roads which are either paved or indicated on a current Department of Transportation county highway map.

Note: Class A and certain Class B disabled permit holders are exempt from certain portions of this requirement when hunting from a stationary vehicle. Contact the DNR for more information.

Tree Stands and Ground Blinds

North of Highway 64, no more than two portable tree stands or ground blinds per hunter per county may remain placed overnight on DNR-managed lands from Sept. 1 - Jan. 31, 2020. All such devices must display the hunter's name and address or customer ID number and be removed no later than Jan. 31, 2020.

Collared Elk are Legal

Many elk within the elk hunting zone wear tracking collars or ear tags for research and monitoring purposes. Any legal bull elk marked in this way is legal to harvest.

Hunter Assistance is Welcome

Because a Wisconsin elk hunt is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, successful applicants may wish to share the experience by allowing others to tag along as observers. Spectators may participate in all aspects of the hunt except shooting an elk. Group elk hunting is not allowed.

Know Where You Are Hunting!

Approximately 70 percent of the Clam Lake elk range is open for public hunting. However, private properties are scattered throughout the area and are frequently utilized by elk. Know where you are hunting and do not enter private lands without landowner permission.

Resources available to help you find a place to hunt include:
