May is Clean Air Month. Your business can help make a difference!

May is Clean Air Month, and the Department of Natural Resources is celebrating our state's clean air and the part each of us plays in improving our state's air quality.

Your business can be an important player in keeping our air clean. Now is the perfect time to make sure you are up to date on state and federal air emission regulations. The DNR's Small Business Environmental Assistance Program can help you do just that. Visit our website by going to <http://dnr.wi.gov> and searching "small business". There you can find a wide variety of resources on managing your air emissions. If you have any questions, contact us at the Small Business Environmental Assistance Hotline at 855-889-3021 or email us at DNRSMBusiness@wisconsin.gov.

"We are breathing healthier air and continuing to see positive trends in air quality thanks to the partnership among businesses, citizens and the department," said DNR Air, Waste and Remediation & Redevelopment Deputy Division Administrator Bart Sponseller.
