SET or BANK POLE and SETLINE LICENSES

A set or bank pole is defined as a pole equipped with one line and a maximum of two hooks that is fished from the bank of a lake or river. In this case, a “pole” is a long, cylindrical rod and does not include tree branches or dead falls.

A set or bank pole license authorizes the use of up to 5 set or bank poles. Set or bank pole licenses are $3.00 and include 5 tags.

A setline is a staked line equipped with no more than 25 hooks.

A setline license authorizes the use of one setline.

A setline license is $11.00 for license and 25 cents for the tag.

Please Note: Special rules apply to use and number of hooks and lines on the WI/MN and WI/IA boundary waters (see pages 6-13)

General Restrictions

- No one can use or possess a set or bank pole or setline unless they have a license and comply with the regulations for that particular gear.
- Licenses are only available to residents of Wisconsin.
- License and tags can be purchased from either a DNR Service Center or at selected Automated License Issuance System (ALIS) vendors. Check the DNR website (dnr.wi.gov) for the agents who issue these licenses and tags.
- Up to 12 tags may be issued for setlines used on WI/IA and WI/MN boundary waters, but not more than 8 setlines may be used on WI/MN boundary waters.
- Only one setline may be used on all other waters combined.
- Licenses are effective April 1 to March 31 of the following year, but season dates must be followed.
- No one can use, tend, or operate a set or bank pole or setline that is licensed to somebody else. Tagging a setline, set or bank pole with multiple tags is not allowed.

- You may not possess sport angling equipment while setting, lifting, or attending a set or bank pole or setline.
- Set or bank poles and setlines are passive gears that, once deployed, can fish without the angler being present, but must be checked daily (see page 3 for details).
- Set or bank poles and setlines may only be used to catch catfish, rough fish, and turtles during the open season. For taking catfish and rough fish with a setline, set or bank pole see pages 6-8.
- Set or bank poles and setlines may only be used on waters open to the use of these specially licensed gear. See page 6 for open waters.

Minnows harvested outside of VHS infected waters can only be used on the water they came from.
