

2020 Migratory Game Bird Hunting Season Public Input Summary

We would like to thank everyone that reached out to the WDNR to provide public input, whether that was via phone call, email, online input tool or attending a meeting or hearing. We have seen significant increases in public input the last 3 years compared to what we historically had received from waterfowl hunters. This year with the inclusion of the online input tool we received 2,185 total comments. We want to thank all of you for reaching out to provide feedback on the 2020 migratory bird hunting season frameworks. Below is a summary of all the comments received, if you have any questions please don't hesitate to contact Taylor Finger.
