

Northern Pike Observations 2011

This data includes occurrences of adult northern pike in tributaries and ditches connected to Green Bay. Methods used may include evening spotlighting by research crews or daytime observations of dead or alive adult fish as reported to WDNR by citizens or other agencies. This data may be used to document fish migration routes or spawning areas.