Hi Dennis,

I looked into this and took it off our inventory as well. The last time the site was visited by me was in 2008, so there was a good chance it was incorrect (I'm never wrong :)). According to the county parcel data, that area is privately owned, not township owned.

Hey Kathy, its winter and there are still boat access issues. Please read the email below.

We checked w/ our water folks and it sounds like it comes down to whether or not the Township has "designated" this location as a Public Access location. If it is, then there is a bigger question about public rights. If it is not designated as public access, then we need to take it off. This is the Water folks' opinion, but it's more of a land question. I believe we are going to take ours off (which is identical to your location) until we hear otherwise.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Dennis

Hi Jennifer:

Phil Dorn, the local game warden for Barron County, contacted me earlier in the week in regards to a gentleman that has property along Wildcat Lake in northern Barron County. The DNR webpage lists the lake as having a public landing. The lake does not have a landing, but anglers are able to get on the lake from a town road when the water high (which it currently is not). It falls within the 33' right of way when the lake is higher, but is currently ~50' from the road centerline. The landowner wants us to take the listing off the DNR webpage. I was told you would be the one responsible for this? If not, could you please point me in the right direction?
